Date: 14 March 2016
Ref no: CN0024

Night work bridge investigations: Gateway Motorway over Depot Road, Deagon

From Sunday 20 March 2016, night work investigations will be undertaken to determine the existing condition of the southbound Gateway Motorway bridge over Depot Road at Deagon (refer to the map overleaf).

These works will take up to four weeks to complete and are required to facilitate widening of the southbound bridge from two lanes to three, which will start in mid-2016.

Works include:

- drilling holes at intervals along each side of the bridge to expose steel bars
- testing the exposed bars to ensure they perform to required standards
- cleaning the steel bars in preparation for bridge widening works.

Working hours:

Due to the nature of these activities and their proximity to live traffic, the works must be carried out at night when traffic volumes are lower, for the safety of motorists and workers.

Night works will be undertaken between Sunday and Thursday from 7.00pm to 5.00am.

All works are subject to weather and construction conditions.

What to expect during works:

- Increased noise levels due to the use of heavy machinery, including elevated work platforms, concrete coring tools, chisel hammers and other hand tools.
- Use of temporary lighting towers to light the work area.
- Increased construction traffic accessing the work site, with flashing lights and reversing beepers for safety.
- Localised traffic changes on the Gateway Motorway and Depot Road, including placement of traffic barriers and other traffic control devices, lane closures, reduced speed limits and police/traffic control.
- Localised pedestrian/cyclist changes on the footpaths beneath the bridges. Traffic controllers will direct pedestrians/cyclists safely through the work site.
- Temporary removal of some on-street parking on Depot Road beneath and near the bridges.
